

We offer quality services our clients can trust. We give you the freedom to attend to your core business, while we manage the non-core business issues with excellence and integrity at the right price and the finest quality. We have over 15 years' experience in cleaning and the building and construction industries, with ISO proven standards and procedures in place to ensure that we deliver the best. With our unique proven practice of spending energy on construction, facilities management and cleaning and hygiene, we have established a progressive and integrated approach to allow you to focus on your core business. Keep Clean's combined service offering enables you to do what you do best, confident you can rely on us.

Quality service is the cornerstone for business success and with the increasing demand from customers for the need for improved work systems. This has driven the adoption of ISO 9001:2000 Quality Management System in 2004 for Keep Clean. We now have a quality department fully focused on the monitoring of quality standards at all levels within the enterprise. Our ISO certification has now been upgraded to ISO 9001:2008 in October 2009.

We provide services for construction and renovation of buildings and undertake civil works, while we also manage and monitor construction and civil projects. Being registered with the Ministry of Public Infrastructure, Land Transport and Shipping, we have undertaken a series of construction projects locally and in Rodrigues.

The different types of contracts undertaken include, amongst others:

- Building and Civil Works
- Renovation works
- All types of concrete structures
- All types of timber structures
- Fencing works
- Finishes
- Waterproofing
- Landscaping works including the laying of tarmac and paving blocks

Over the years, projects have been undertaken in line with the above, be it construction of new buildings or major renovation works. Keep Clean has successfully completed projects such as the construction of a new police station, the extension to a secondary school and renovation work to hospitals. As a result of the above and as proven by our recently awarded projects, we can proudly say, that we offer the experience and expertise required to bring value to our clients businesses.
